Re: ADDENDUM on Massive Open Online Course (MOOC) Leading Ambitious Teaching and Learning Participants

1. In connection with the issued Division Memorandum No. 212, s. 2017 RE: MOOC on Leading Ambitious Teaching and Learning, the following teachers are to be included as additional participants to the said course:

1. Marivil G. Cabadu – Pogo Lasip Elementary School
2. Joyce Liwanag - JJDV Sr. Technical and Vocational Secondary School
3. Sheila Margarette Benitez – Dagupan City National High School
4. Janice Flores – Salapingao National High School.

2. All the identified participants are enjoined to attend the following meet-ups at the Schools Division Office:

Meet-up 1: October 13, 2017 (Virtual Program) at 8:30 to 11:30 am

Introduction to the Course / Micro Masters. Module 1: Ambitious Instruction in Elementary Literacy. In introducing ambitious teaching and learning, we begin at the very foundation of students' educational experience, literacy instruction. The course provides an opportunity to hear from a former teacher and from an individual who has worked in both government and business about what today's ambitious literacy instruction looks like.

Meet-up 2: October 27, 2017 – (Offline Program) at 3:00pm to 5:00 pm

Module 2: Ambitious Learning with Digital Technology Tools. In this module, we establish foundational ideas, research, and frameworks to help educators think carefully about what ambitious learning should look like when using technology tools.

Meet-up 3: November 3, 2017 – (Offline Program) at 3:00pm to 5:00 pm

Module 3: Systems Thinking and Improving at Scale. The third module of leading Ambitious Teaching and Learning will introduce you to systems thinking and improving at scale. The aim is to support you in bringing ambitious instruction, not only to a few selected classrooms, but to entire schools, districts, and networks.

Meet-up 4: November 17, 2017 (Virtual Program) at 8:30 to 11:30 am

Module 4: Leading Transformative Change. With module four, we will focus more specifically on the interpersonal work of change leaders. And on ways that leaders in schools and systems can empower and encourage more ambitious teaching in schools.

VIRTUAL GRADUATION: December 8 (venue and time will be announced on a later date)

3. Each participant is expected to bring laptop or smartphone and pocket wifi.
4. For inquiries, please feel free to communicate with Dr. Mitchellene Vigilia-Rivo, SEPS for Human Resource and Development Section, with the mobile number 09055243912 or at mvrivo.seps.hr@gmail.com.
5. Widest dissemination of the content of this memo is desired.
